

Clinical Lead

Candidate Pack

Dorset Parent Infant Partnership are recruiting

We need you to help Families Flourish

Are you passionate about the importance of early relationships?

Do you have a qualification and experience of working with parents and babies?

You could be the person we are looking for

We are helping families to flourish in Dorset and surrounding areas, by providing parent infant relationship services from conception to age two that include, Breastfeeding support, Health visitor lead peer support groups, Infant massage, pre & post birth coaching for Dads, as well as the parent infant psychotherapy that remains central to our work.

Established in 2017 by founder and CEO Viv Allen to fulfil a local need for parents and infants who are struggling to form safe, secure relationships. Viv says “This is an exciting phase in our development. We have built up a robust team of specialists and secured the funding to run these services. In 2020 we saw double the number of families as in 2019 and our expectation is that this will continue to grow. We have listened to our beneficiaries and can now provide a range of services that they have asked for.”

DorPIP Introduction

Dorset Parent Infant Partnership, established in 2017, is an established and rapidly growing charity specialising in the emotional needs of parents, pre and post birth and their babies during their first two years of life. Therapists are drawn from a variety of clinical backgrounds and have specialist knowledge and understanding of infant mental health and attachment theory. The aim of therapy is to support parents who are experiencing difficulties with their baby and to facilitate parent-infant relationships which, in some cases, will include working with other carers within the family.

The work requires flexibility, pragmatism, and creativity. The therapist is required to provide support or interventions which match the need of the client. Treatment may be short or longer term but the average number of sessions per client is eight.

The treatment approach required may vary and it would be an advantage to be familiar with several different approaches to interventions with parents and infants.

This post offers an exceptional opportunity to work within a team of therapists and to assist in extending the service in Dorset, working as part of a new project. This person will need to be passionate about promoting infant mental health and contribute to the vision and aims of DorPIP. They will need to collaborate and work very closely with the CEO, other therapists in the team and the Project and Communications Managers whilst meeting the needs of our clients. An important aspect of this role is being able to contribute and work to foster relationships with midwives, health visitors, Children's Centres, GPs, relevant voluntary organisations, and Early Years Practitioners, to generate referrals that are appropriate for parent infant therapy
